Maysville's remarkable band of boys was one of the greatest attractions we could have had for the big contennial and home coming week. We believe there is no other musical organization of its kind in the United States that equals it. The youthful members were a continual source of wonder to the spectafors on account of the excellence of their performance. It proves what young people mere shildren, can what young people mere children, can accomplish under competent training. The band brought here was composed of 36 members, all from good fam-lies. Their ages average 1314 years. There are three girls amongst them. A portion of Logan. W. Va.'s husness district was destroyed by fire funday. Loss estimated at $500,000.

They play classical music like veterans: and they play jazz enough to pacify the jazzers. Their music is good pacify the jazzers. Their music is good Wednesday destroyed ten buildings in cluding a store, restaurant and barber sembled here at every sembled here at every sembled here at every performance was so evident that it could not be misconstrued. Every number brought liberal applause. We were impressed by the way the classical numbers were eceived by the crowds.

The director was a member of the great Sousa hand for years. No ordinary man could accomplish what he has with these youngsters.
F. L. Hendrickson and Mr. and Mrs.

Glascock were here with the Two daughters of the latter are members of the band. Enclosed is copy of a letter that W. Va.

makes an appropriate closing chapter September 2, 1922,

Mr. J. Barbour Russell, Manager Ky. Cardinal Band, Maysville, Kentucky.

Dear Mr. Russell:-We wanted to keep your boys a day longer than we orginally planned, but owing to the railroad situation find it impossible. ind are compelled to let them go back o you this morning. Mr. Hendrick-son and Mr. and Mrs. Glascock have all enjoyed the trip I am sure, and we have been happy indeed to have had hem with us.

In bringing your band to our cen-tennial we had in mind a purpose to show our people just what the business men of Maysville by a united ef-fort have made possible and at the same time to provide an inspiration to the youth of our county, but now as we look back over the week that has expressing it in words that the great-est thing of all has been the wonder-ful music they have placed.

of him and proud of your band, and, we are proud with you-proud that on may say that we have had them aith us during an unforgettable week. We all hope for their return.

Sincerely yours, CLYDE L MILLER. Manager Centennial Association.
